DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments, see remarks, filed 6/16/06, with respect to claim 1 and 6-8 have been fully considered and are persuasive. The 35 U.S.C. 102(b) of claims 1 and 6-8 has been withdrawn.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1 and 6-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Gheysen (US 5,353,846). Gheysen illustrates in Fig. 3 a jacquard device including two or more set of hooks with each set including complimentary hooks (29, 30) that operates in conjunction to a pulley 21 with complementary hooks (29,30) of one set of hooks operating in conjunction with one pulley 21. Gheysen illustrates a grid of 3 by 2 sets of pulleys with two complementary hooks operating each pulley. It is inherent that when the complementary hooks (29,30) of Gheysen are raised and lowered by knives 60, it will create a group of upper and lower pulleys as claimed.

As to claim 2, Gheysen illustrates (Fig. 3) complementary hooks (29,30) that are adjacent and would overlap partly when projected on a horizontal plane.

As to claim 6, Gheysen illustrates (Fig. 3) a single element, knife 60, to take multiple sets of hook on selection.

As to claim 7, Gheysen discloses (Col. 1 line 43) that the jacquard is a three position loom.

As to claim 8, Gheysen discloses (Col. 1 line 6) that the device disclosed is for a jacquard machine (loom).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 3-5 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: Claims 3-5 teaches specific pulley location and structure that is not shown in the prior art.
